

Associate Professor Alison Arrow Structured approach to literacy

About Alison Arrow

Alison Arrow is an Associate Professor in literacy at the University of Canterbury.

Alison co-lead a longitudinal intervention project examining the effectiveness of providing teachers with more targeted literacy teaching strategies for improving child literacy outcomes. This work has contributed to wider changes to literacy approaches in Aotearoa, New Zealand. Alison has also led the development of the Ready to Read Phonics Plus Series and contributed to the development of the BSLA. She was a member of the MOE Literacy and Communication Working Group.

Register Here

<https://tinyurl.com/ttla-struct-lit>

All participants MUST register (for catering and venue purposes)

Alison will present a research and evidence based introduction and discussion on what a structured approach to literacy is and what it isn't!

Clark Road Chapel, Clark Road, Kamo

Monday 10th June 1pm - 3pm
School leadership
(refreshments provided)

---or---

Monday 10th June 4pm - 6pm
(afternoon tea from 3:45pm)
Teachers

Cost

Non-members - $30

Members - $20

Want to send more than 10 from your school?

Only pay for the first 10!