COMPLEXITIES OF WRITING IN A DIGITAL AGE - AGM

Dr Rebecca Jesson
Professor

Curriculum and Pedagogy Assoc Dean Research
Faculty of Arts and Education Administration
University of Auckland: Waipapa Taumata Rau

Following on from Murray Gadd in 2024 we have another fantastic writing researcher who will share ideas on ways to enhance your students experiences in writing in a digital age with the multiple demands placed on them at this time.

The talk draws from long-standing Research-Practice Partnerships investigating the teaching of writing in culturally diverse communities. It brings together findings over multiple studies that investigate contextually appropriate, high-progress learner practices.
